

Explore

ARTS | CULTURE | SPORTS | FUN

Jimmy Choo patent-leather clutches in Lychee and Key Lime, $795 each, Saks Fifth Avenue, saksfifthavenue.com

Pretty in Pink

Spring has sprung, and pastels are everywhere in fashion. We asked the experts how to incorporate soft colors into your wardrobe—without looking like an Easter egg.

BY EMILY THOMPSON | PHOTO BY TESSA BERG

Turquoise and white skinny belts, $18 each, Cheesecake Boutique, cheesecakeboutique.net

Pink anchor infinity scarf, $18, Objects for the Home, objectsforthehome.com

Pink and gold faceted teardrop stone earrings, $24, Boho 72, boho72.com

Zenzii mint enamel bangle, $17.50, Objects for the Home

Aeolist turquoise cotton zip clutch, $32, Objects for the Home

Mint and gold flower necklace, $18, Substance, shops Substance.com

“Pastels are always key for spring,” says Chelsea Cabot, co-owner of Objects for the Home. But Cabot and Jessica Carle of Cheesecake Boutique agree it’s an easy trend to overdo, which can make you look washed out. Carle suggests pairing pastels with bold colors, while Cabot prefers pastel accents with neutrals. For either look, accessories are a good way to incorporate pastels without going over the top—and we’re loving these soft pinks, blues and greens showing up on local shelves. “Look for a pop of pastels,” Carle says.

PHOTO: TESSA BERG